

FINABEL trainee program

Currently, FINABEL Permanent Secretariat is looking for new trainees. We are looking forward to give students new internship opportunities within an international context.

The internship is UNPAID unless the student applies to an Erasmus Placement Scholarship through the University.

We are interested in the following fields:

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

EUROPEAN STUDIES

SECURITY STUDIES

POLITICAL SCIENCES

MARKETING/COMMUNICATION

SOCIAL SCIENCES

The student must have a good knowledge of English preferable C1, and must be enrolled in at least a Master's degree, or higher.

Finabel offers an internship role in two domains; Research and Lobbying Intern and a Communications Intern.

The Research and Lobbying Intern will be assigned the following tasks:

- ADMINISTRATIVE TASKS, such as gathering information related to Finabel's activities;
- RESEARCH within a small multicultural team on Finabel's topics and European defence in order to write and publish Food for Thought/papers;
- DEVELOP an individual research paper, to be handed in at the end of the traineeship.
- TAKE PART in Finabel conferences abroad, as well as with other Member States

The Communications Intern will be assigned the following tasks:

- Creation of marketing and communication tools;
- Organise and oversee all social media platforms;
- Preferred experience of WordPress or website management;
- Initiative to develop the communications department further;

The internship should last at least three months, but the duration as well as the schedule are very flexible.

Students that are interested should send their candidature in English (CV + cover letter) to Mr. Mario Blokken at the following email address: traineeanager@finabel.org.

This offer has no deadline, so candidates can apply at any time.
